

Improvement Notice

(paragraph 3.30(e))

*Offshore Petroleum and Greenhouse Gas Storage Act 2006
Offshore Petroleum and Greenhouse Gas Storage (Safety) Regulations 2009*

Notice Number: 357

IMPROVEMENT NOTICE

To: Woodside Energy Limited

I, [REDACTED] an OHS inspector appointed under section 680 of the Act, am satisfied that the person named above as the responsible person is contravening, or has contravened, and is likely to contravene:

(a) Clause 9(2)(e) of Schedule 3 to the Act;

at:

Vincent

The reasons for my opinion are:

A function test of vent flaps conducted during the inspection on 25 October 2011 resulted in the port forward fire Damper (No. 1) remaining in the open condition when it should have closed. The damper appeared to have seized. It was also noted that some of the ventilation trunking were not adequately secured and during damper operation moved significantly.

The ability of the engine room vent damper system to fully function in the event of an engine room fire is critical to the effectiveness of the fire suppression system, in that it eliminates an inrush of air to feed a fire and contains the released CO2 to extinguish a fire.

You are required to take action within 60 days of the date of this notice to prevent further contravention or likely contravention of the clause or regulation.

* The following action must be taken by the responsible person within the period specified above:

Ensure the engine room ventilation trunking is adequately secured and the dampers meet appropriate standards and are capable of functioning on demand as required in an emergency.

In order to close this notice Woodside is required to:

1. Appropriately secure all main engine room ventilation trunkings;
2. Ensure the damper system is designed appropriately;
3. Investigate and correct the source of water contamination in the air supply; and
4. Ensure all dampers are reliable and capable of functioning as required on demand.
