16-Jan-2025	Subsea Contractor provided confirmation that three of the Seven Oceanic ROV personnel had not received mandatory Unexpected Finds Procedure training, prior to commencing work onboard. Training deficiency was identified during the monthly WEL environmental inspection onboard the Seven Oceanic.	PS 1.5.1 Relevant vessel crew (including [REDACTED]) are made aware of the requirements of the Unexpected Finds Procedure (C1.4) through an induction.	[REDACTED] will be trained upon return to work (prior to undertaking duties).	Unexpected Finds onboarding to be included in HSE onboarding package and no longer delivered as a separate package to personnel required to complete the training (i.e. now delivered to all personnel). [REDACTED] to confirm training complete prior to commencing shift, post crew change until inductions are captured in wider HSE induction onboarding. (See above)	Unexpected Finds onboarding to be included in HSE onboarding package that is mandatory for all to complete before commencing shift (generally performed by the [REDACTED]). Previously the ROV bespoke training was managed through the [REDACTED].

Note 1: As at 28 February 2014, amendments to the Offshore Petroleum and Greenhouse Gas Storage (Environment) Regulations changed from environmental performance objective to environmental performance outcome. If you are reporting against an EP accepted under the old Regulations please report against the environmental performance objective for that activity.

Note 2: This form may be submitted in conjunction with the 'Injuries and Fatalities – Monthly Summary Report' Form available at www.nopsema.gov.au
